Malleons Stephen Jaques + King & Wood

[New World]

Led by China, the emerging Asian economies have created a 'new world' – with never before seen opportunities, challenges and complexities. For our clients, it's a world that requires something bold and different.

And here it is.

Mallesons Stephen Jaques and China's King & Wood, are combining as King & Wood Mallesons to create a new legal powerhouse with a uniquely Asian view of the world. Your legal partner for the Asian century – with the capability, capacity and reputation to support you in the world's growth region.

A "game changer" for the global legal industry – it's what you'd expect from two firms built on forward thinking and innovation. Market leaders who have come together to offer you a compelling new choice to help you realise your new world opportunities.

"This is great news. As we expand and grow to support our customers we value expert local capability in China delivered through a firm we trust based on 150 years of working and growing together."

[New Opportunities]

From investment in-and-out of China to the emerging market for RMB products to successfully resolving cross-border disputes, King & Wood Mallesons is driven by your needs and opportunities.

King & Wood Mallesons is excited and passionate about the opportunity to deliver a unique East/West offering with a dominant position in Financial Services, Energy & Resources and China Inbound & Outbound Investment.

Strength gained from combined experience in the big, the strategic and most complex work in the region.

What this means for you will depend on your business, your industry and your priorities. For some clients it will be simply business as usual, with the client focus that you've come to expect from Australia's leading full service firm. For those with Asian ambitions it means new strength and a new choice where you need it most.

What's next?

Both firms share a vision to create a global legal network that's uniquely centred in Asia. But what happens next depends on you. Our history is shaped by moving with our clients and their opportunities – and it's a big world out there.
